Harvest. Two Professional Clowns
Amuse Immense Crowd.

Several hundred people attended the plays "Home, Sweet Home," those who do desire may lodge in the two top and their favorite dancers.

The merry-go-round, the trapeze, dodging ducks, and the animal circus.
Plenty of fun was ushered in with

GRANDFATHER LAWS ANNULLED BY SUPREME COURT

Holds Election Officials Could Be Held Amenable to Law for Seeking to Enforce Oklahoma and Maryland Clauses.

Washington, June 21.—In a decision so broad as probably to annul "grandfather" enactments in every Southern state which has adopted such laws, the Supreme Court today unanimously held invalid Oklahoma and Maryland legislation aimed at restricting the Negro vote.

The decision was that it is a violation of the Fifteenth Amendment to the national Constitution for a state to select arbitrarily a date, such as 1865, and provide that persons not qualified to vote on that date or whose ancestors were not so qualified are barred from voting, or must submit to voting tests not required of others.

The Court further held that election officials who sought to enforce such clauses could be held amenable to law for denying persons a right to vote and that such officials could not disregard the fact that the Fifteenth Amendment had stricken out of the statute law the word "white" as a qualification of voting.

The Court held that Oklahoma had not meant to provide a literary test for its voters, if the restrictions as to those qualified to vote in 1865 was illegal and hence struck down that test, although holding that standing alone such a test was constitutional.

Property and other tests for voters enacted by the Maryland Legislature for Annapolis in the same act in which the "grandfather" clause was inserted were held to be so closely related to the "grandfather" clause as to make all the qualifications fail.

SERMON TO GRADUATES

Rev. Geo. E. Stevens, pastor of Central Baptist Church, preached a very inspiring sermon to the graduates of the public schools of this city last Sunday. This large, cheerful assembly, packed to its doors with a patient audience, who listened to Dr. Stevens preach from the text, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." He advised his hearers to be strong and courageous, despite of the seemingly handicaps, and to press onward in the face of discriminations.
"Times are better now than ever before and your opportunities are greater." The choir, under the direction of Mr. Troy Gorm, rendered beautiful music.

Grace at Bethel

By REV. WILLIAM WALLACE KETCHUM
Pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, Mankato, Minn.

TEXT—And he dreamed and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold the angels of God ascending and descending on it.—Genesis 28:12.

The story which presents itself is an old one. It is that of a life into which God entered—the life of one who was a true representative of man under the curse of sin. Jacob had married and Jacob had brought to the land of Canaan the blessing of Abraham through descent and the sin which brought its curse. A mother lost both of her sons and Jacob, because of the kindred wrath of heaven, at his last, poor wayward Jacob, shrouded in darkness; and ascending and descending, the angels of God. It is not the true picture of God's grace manifested through Christ who is the ladder reaching from God to needy man.

Loved Ones at the Bottom. Years ago, an apostle in a coal mine hurried many souls into eternity. A great crowd gathered, appalled by the terrible calamity. It could not be ascertained who had been killed, or wounded, or who were still exposed alive to the fire which was advancing in every direction. Where was the man willing to impel his life by descending into the pit? A person of intelligence succeeded in gaining the attention of the throng and asked if they were ready to face death by entering the mine. Instantly a number stepped forward. "But," said a Christian, "I noticed that none volunteered, except those who had loved ones at the bottom."

Just so it was with him, who left the throne of glory and the courts of heaven to come to our relief. What is most him to make the descent from such a height to such a depth, we shall not fully know throughout eternity, but we know now that he would never have descended, if he had not loved ones at the bottom.

The Word of Grace. God did not leave Jacob, perplexed by the vision, but spoke to him the word of grace: "I am the Lord God of Abraham, thy father." The land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it. And behold I am with thee to all thy days, whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land, for I will not leave thee until I have done that I have spoken to thee of. But in the story of a feeling, fallen man, an "it" obscured the grace at Bethel. It led Jacob to bargain with God and brought and failure. God asked nothing of Jacob, simply faith; but Jacob said in God, "If you will do so and so," then shall the Lord be my God and of all that thou shalt give me, I will surely give a tenth unto thee. So Jacob left Bethel, having accepted God's grace conditionally. Relying partly upon God and partly upon self, he soon lost sight of the grace at Bethel, but amidst all his schemes and planning the God of Bethel never forgot Jacob. Grace that saved, kept him and at last brought him back to Bethel, where grace was accepted fully. Faith took the place of sight and grace won the day.

Salvation by Grace Alone. Today, when grace which saves unconditionally, is accepted conditionally, it brings failure. God has not left us in doubt as in what Christ's suffering on the cross means. He hath spoken the word, "And by him all that believe are justified, from all things from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses." And God, who exercises perfect grace, sends us just where he met Jacob, out upon the hills of sin in the very spot where we find ourselves, like Jacob, guilty, helpless and alone.

Have you accepted fully God's gift of grace? Or, like the bargainer Jacob, are you now trusting in God, now in self, now willing by sight, now in faith? If so, the God of all grace meets you and asks you to receive without condition his blessed gift.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. BRILLIANT, Acting Director of Sunday School Course of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago)

LESSON FOR JUNE 27

REVIEW, SECOND QUARTER.

READING LESSON—Psalm 138-74. GOLDEN TEXT—"I myself will be the shepherd of my sheep."—Matthew 9:10.

The approximate time covered by these lessons is from 1021 or 1071 B. C. to 1035 or 1023 B. C., somewhere between 50 and 60 years. The most prominent character is David. He is related to our lesson, except the first, either as an actor or an author. This fact gives us a center about which to revolve our review. By making assignments a week in advance a chapter summary of David's life can be presented as follows: Chapter I, Saul's disobedience, and its relation to David. II, David's early life, shepherd boy and Samuel. III, The king and the giant. IV, The musician and the king. V, The boy and his men. VI, The young man in the cave. VII, The young man as king. VIII, The king and the ark. IX, The king's great sin. The remaining lessons will make excellent reading matter to be interspersed with the presentation of the various chapters and we may call the whole program "From Obsecration to Power."

An excellent suggestion is made in "Pictorial Bible Notes," of carrying a large chart ruled vertically into five columns and horizontally into two squares, one for each lesson. In the vertical column respectively, place, characters, intervening places, key verses, and principal teaching. Then have each of the sixty different spaces assigned to the review of individuals who will each in turn, beginning at the upper left hand corner with lesson one, fill in the different squares in order until the whole chart is covered. If a blackboard is used these facts can be written within the different squares, otherwise cards must be taken to have the facts written upon previously prepared pieces of cardboard, or paper, each to correspond to the dimensions of the various squares on the large chart. As in the case of the "chapter review" previously suggested, Lessons III, XI and XII, being from the Psalms, may be read and no further attention be given to them so far as the chart is concerned. For the younger classes a good story teller can give a running story of the lessons which will prove highly interesting.

To drill the school, the preceding classes on some of the outstanding facts of the books of First and Second Samuel and the Psalms will prove a profitable review of the story of David's life. Who are the heroes of First Samuel? Of Second Samuel? What chief events in the life of David are recorded in First Samuel? In Second Samuel? Where in the record of David and Goliath?

If a running commentary is desired the following suggestions may help. Lesson I. Saul is set aside, hence the need of David, "a man after God's own heart."

Lesson II. Samuel's choice set aside and David the youngest son is selected to be king.

Lesson III. The wonderful shepherd again which is a "testimony" of David the shepherd king. (Have the school recite it in concert.)

Lesson IV. A venture of faith, Jehovah's watchful care over David, and the downfall of a mighty foe.

Lesson V. Saul's vain attempt to slay David. The development of belief, the protecting care over those who put their trust in Jehovah.

Lesson VI. The love of David and Jonathan, an illustration of the surrendered life and a type of the love for us of the Father and the Son. "I have called you not servants but friends."

Lesson VII. David's generosity to his persecutor, Absalom. David did not do in Saul what Saul tried to do to David. Though selected to become the king, David recognized in Saul one of God's chosen men and patiently bided his time till God should remove this recreant, disobedient servant and place him in the position of power.

Lesson VIII. David's eagerness to be king, first over Judah and later over the entire nation. Also the record of his shrewd manner of making friends with all of the tribes of Israel.

Lesson IX. David established Jerusalem to be both the civic and religious center of the nation. His joy in worship and in God's service joins forward in our "chief shepherd."

Lesson X. David was after all only human. In the midst of his life luxury he succumbed to the allurements of temptation and committed an awful sin, an act that involved many others and made the sun itself seem fearful to behold. How are the mighty fallen!

The higher they are the harder the fall. Let this part of the review consist of reading the psalm with but little, preferably no, comment.

If it has gone before has been prayerfully and actively presented, comment on these two lessons is needless.

They so clearly and cogently connect themselves with David's life as to serve little more to be said, and the review will end with the psalmist's note of prayerfulness and his trust in Jehovah, the testimony of his personal knowledge and experience.

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILLINOIS

By Geo. C. Anderson

The annual open meeting of the Home Club was a success in every way. The affair was held at the home of Dr. Mrs. T. C. Hunt, 1841 Bond Ave. The members of the club acted as the hostesses. A very nice program was rendered, after which the members and their guests spent the evening socially. As the gay crowd were enjoying themselves, Mrs. Perry announced the engagement of her daughter, Phoebe, to Mr. A. W. E. Baugh, Jr., a lawyer of Hampton, Va., which was greatly surprising to those present. Miss Perry is at present a teacher in the city schools.

Several people from East St. Louis attended the funeral of Miss Frances Stewart, which was held at the Metropolitan Church, St. Louis. Rev. T. Wallace preached the funeral. Miss Stewart was a member of the Household of Ruth, and was formerly a teacher in the public schools of East St. Louis.

The colored business men of East St. Louis, and St. Louis, will hold their annual 4th of July celebration this year at Cahokia, Ill. Mr. John W. W. Carr is the leading spirit in this affair.

A Mid-Summer Festival was held at St. Paul Baptist Church last Thursday and Friday, under the auspices of the Helping Hand Club. The reporter, Mrs. Chas. Brown, says that the results were excellent. This is one of the many efforts to put St. Louis to rest and Pastor Dr. Shields is delighted at the results thus far accomplished.

Rev. T. W. Wallace returned Saturday morning from Chicago, where he has been attending the Michigan Conference of the A. M. E. Church. He reports a pleasant stay. The members of St. John A. M. E. Zion Church are rejoicing because Rev. Wallace was returned. The position asking his return was signed by the mayor, ex-mayor and many prominent white and colored citizens. Mrs. M. L. Benjamin Franklin—"Father of American Diplomacy"

AMERICA has never produced a greater statesman than Franklin, who was revered by the people second only to Washington. He was a signer of both the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, and his wisdom made the latter a possibility. The great Lord Chatham pronounced him not only a laborer to the Anglo-Saxon people, but to human nature. In every capacity of Europe he was a welcome guest, and it was who induced France to lend us ships, men and money during the darkest days of the Revolution. Upon his death Congress ordered a general mourning of a month. In France it was decreed that all members of the national assembly should wear mourning for three days. So long as America measures the Republic in the Federal Library as the noblest of all human blessings, the fame of Franklin can never perish. Personally he was possessed of robust health; he was a well-shaped man of a wise but simple nature; he had the grace of a Greek philosopher, while his head his noble bearing and winning personality made him a conspicuous figure in any assemblage of great men. He was a moderate user all his lifetime of Old Maccles and barley-malt brews. It is safe to say that he tossed the New Republic with every great man of Europe and America. Franklin considered his work in building the Constitution his greatest service to posterity. Upon the self-evident declaration of the Constitution of the United States Anheuser-Busch 48 years ago launched their gigantic institution. To-day, wherever Americans go for health, or business, or pleasure, their famed brand BUDWEISER is there. Its popularity, due to its quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor, has daily grown in public favor until 7500 people are constantly employed to keep pace with the ever-increasing demand.

ST. LOUIS OIL WEDS NEW YORK BUSINESS MAN

New York, June 16.—Just as the large number of parties and friends of Geo. E. KANSAS CITY, KAN. GIANTS
COMING SUNDAY

The Kansas City, Kan. Giants, a strong baseball team that has been winning from all the western and southern teams this season, will be here Sunday to play three games with the St. Louis Giants at Kuebler's Park, June 27, 28, 29. This series should afford plenty of excitement for the fans.

The series with the West Baden Sprudels proved the most exciting of the season. As we predicted, the fans were held at a high pitch in all the games. Although the Giants won Sunday by the topheavy score of 11 to 3, the game was hard fought and not half so uninteresting as the score indicates.

Monday the Giants won a 4 to 3 game by making 3 runs in the ninth inning. Tuesday, the Sprudels won 7 to 4 in another hot contest. Simpson, one of the Sprudels' star artists, is a recent graduate of Wilberforce University, with the degree of Bachelor of Science.

The Giants defeated an all-star team, 15 to 5, at the Moordome Wednesday.

GOOD SHOW AT BOOKER WASHINGTON THEATRE

The show at the Booker Washington Theatre this week compares well with the best this house has offered. Frank Foster is a delightful surprise. As a dialect comedian and impersonator he is excellent. His monologue is full of humor and makes a decided hit.

Johnson and Rector sing well. They have a new line of ballads, leads up to an end well, climaxed with a song, "When I Leave This World Behind." They close with a neat dance.

Miss Ella Goodloe appears to advantage as a singer. Her songs are presented in an expressive manner and she does considerable dancing.

Hunter and Chappell are original and comic. Their horse race dialogue with moving pictures is a strong feature. They are making a hit this week.

NOTE—These calling for medicine, surgery and frivolous persons are only wasting time calling on Prof. Gladstone. Strangely fascinating are the words that come from the cultivated lips of this most interesting man whose journey of life has already taken him through all the renowned spiritual schools of Egypt, India and Europe. It seems indeed, as if his knowledge must come from that mysterious world of which we all would know, but cannot know. His knowledge is not away into the dim mysterious future—the great beyond—across the dark ocean which separates the human body from the fitting soul—and that which is to be told. The separated are brought together, for are made friends, lost property is recovered, the wild is brushed away from business ventures, the hand is so guided that failures are averted, the world's surface is explored, its treasures laid bare to his mystic's perceptive mind, and while he gives names, dates, facts and figures, his vision also demonstrated at the revelations he makes reveal. Be sure you are a man of the present time.

GLADSTONE is not a clairvoyant from chance, but because this law of decreed. His ancestors were powerful mediums and have for ages handed down their wonderful power of gift from generation to generation. So he has received the rich inheritance together with the combined knowledge and priceless experience of generations. No matter what your present trouble may be or what your past experience has been, you will save time and avoid disappointment by at once consulting Gladstone.

NOTE—Gladstone answers no letters, if you cannot tell in person, do not write, as the time is fully occupied with his personal affairs.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Flag But No Constitution
A constitution requires a constitution, just so long as its specifications are not violated.

History has not, up to the present day, produced a constitution that has ever lived nor will the coming age produce such a record under present existing conditions on the globe.

Citizens of the United States—sons of fathers now at war in the Eastern Hemisphere, point with pride to the "composition" designated by their forefathers a constitution, yet each passing day but adds to its shambles of fast now over a century old.

Two facts alone have destroyed the life of this constitution. First, a misconception of the terms Negro and Caucasian. Second, the slavery of Colored womanhood by every Colored man in this country.

The term Afro-American may mean equally as well a "Caucasian" offspring of a Caucasian mother and Caucasian father, the one or the other native of America or Africa.

Each individual, subject to a type of constitution at that of the United States, is responsible for the "life" of such constitution.

The production of Colored commercial industry, factories, etc., both foreign and domestic, for Colored men by Colored men will immediately revive the constitution.
